Narguess Noohi has been a practicing attorney since 2010. She started her legal career practicing civil litigation at a prominent Los Angeles firm where she defended insurance carriers and self-insured companies in a wide range of civil matters. She later transitioned into workers' compensation practicing as an applicant's attorney, before realizing her legal passion was in workers' compensation defense.

Narguess is an Associate at Hanna Brophy's Van Nuys office, which is just a few minutes away from where she was raised, and continues to live. She represents insurance carriers and self-insured employers in all aspects of workers' compensation defense.

Narguess graduated from Pepperdine University School of Law where she earned her J.D., as well as a Certificate in Alternative Dispute resolution from the world-renowned Straus Institute of Dispute Resolution. While in law school, Narguess externed at the Los Angeles City Attorney's office as a certified law student, where she had the opportunity to conduct a full trial, from voir dire, to closing statement. She also served as a law clerk at the Legal Aid Clinic at the Union Rescue Mission.
